

Commuter Benefit Plan

MASS TRANSIT AND PARKING EXPENSE SAVINGS

Are you paying more taxes than you need to? By enrolling in a Commuter Benefit Plan, you can pay for qualified workplace commuting expenses with tax-free contributions. You will not have to pay federal income taxes, social security (FICA) taxes, or state income taxes on these expenses (this may vary by state). Benefit Resource (BRI)'s convenient options and tools make it easy to save money each month — when you enroll in the plan, just indicate how much you'd like to contribute to your mass transit and/or parking account.

WHAT ARE ELIGIBLE COMMUTING EXPENSES?

Qualified (or eligible) workplace commuting expenses must be for mass transit and/or parking expenses incurred between a residence and place of employment. Plan funds must be used for qualified commuting expenses only.

Qualified mass transit expenses include buses, trains, subways, ferries, and vanpools. The card also allows for contactless payments through Apple Pay®, Samsung Pay®, and Google Pay®.

Qualified parking expenses are those incurred near your workplace (e.g. SpotHero) or at a location from which you commute to work (e.g. a park-and-ride).

HOW DO I DETERMINE MY ELECTION AMOUNT?

When using your Beniversal or eTRAC Prepaid Mastercard, set your mass transit and/or parking election equal to your total monthly expense. Your election is how much money you choose to have deducted from your paycheck and deposited into your account. If you decide to enroll in both a mass transit and parking account, you must sign up for them separately and fund separate elections for each account.

Your contributions will be deducted tax-free up to the IRS monthly maximums. The current tax-free limits can be found in your plan documentation or on BenefitResource.com.

Review the “Tips for Using Your Card” section on the next page to get the most out of your account.

KEY INFORMATION

- Calculate your potential tax savings using the Commuter Calculator on BenefitResource.com.
- Once your payroll deductions begin, they will be posted to the corresponding account(s) and available to use for eligible commuting expenses.
- Your election(s) will remain in effect until you submit an election change. Check with your employer on how and when changes must be submitted.
- Any extra money in your account rolls over and can be used for future qualified expenses. Excess cash balances cannot be refunded from an account and can only be used for qualified expenses.
- If you build up a balance, you may temporarily reduce your election to $0 in order to spend down the balance and remain active in the plan.
- For more information, contact your employer or see your plan documentation.

As of January 1, 2016, workplace mass transit expenses must be purchased using the card. In the unlikely event that a merchant does not accept the card for eligible parking and vanpooling expenses, claim reimbursement is available.

TIPS FOR USING YOUR FUNDS

- Elect the full cost of your mass transit and/or parking expense, which will be deducted on a tax-free basis up to the current limit. Any remaining amount needed to cover your monthly expense will be deducted on a post-tax basis. The entire election amount will be loaded to your card.
- Limit purchases to the available balance. Before making a purchase, verify your balance to ensure you have enough money on your card to cover the full cost of your expense. Use another payment method in the case of insufficient funds.
- Use it like a debit or credit card. If asked, select CREDIT to sign for the purchase or DEBIT to enter a PIN. To request a PIN, call (855) 247-0198. There is no ATM or cash access associated with this card.
- Link your card for recurring expenses or reload programs. If you are enrolled in an auto-reload program, monthly online subscription, or online payment program, link your card to the program as the payment source.
- Set up direct deposit through BRIWEB to get reimbursements faster for workplace parking or vanpool expenses.
